

Transforming Feedback into Growth

for WACO September Packed Lunch

“Feedback is a gift”

Sometimes that gift isn't what we wanted

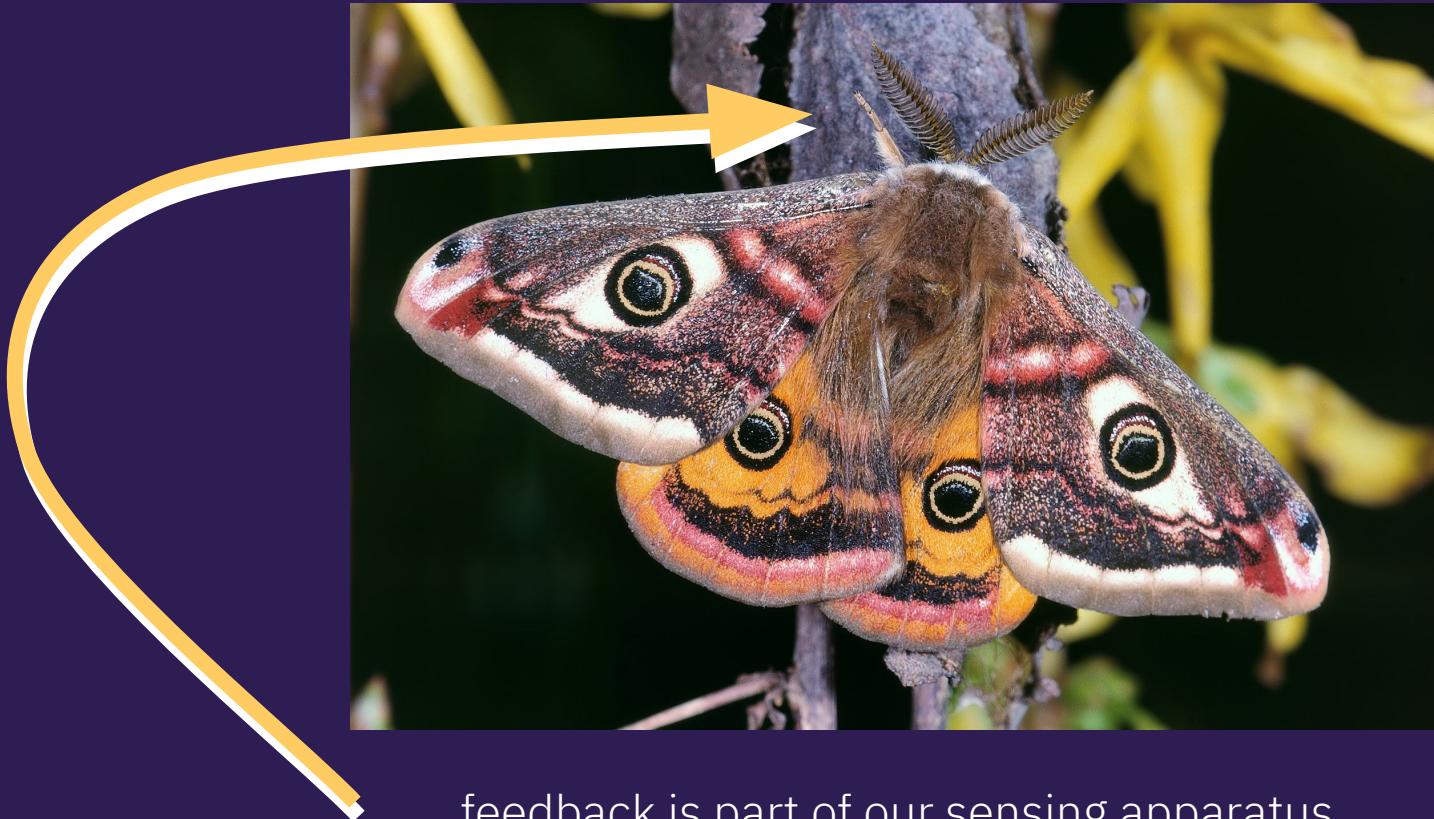

Take it with a grain of salt

...but if building a salt mountain, do something?

feedback is part of our sensing apparatus

Feedback helps us...

Lisa: Hey Mark, I've noticed that last two reports you were responsible for were submitted after the deadlines...

When giving feedback to an individual...

Tell your story – your interpretation

Lisa: I'm concerned because this isn't typical for you, and I'm worried this could continue to impact the team's productivity and how we're perceived

When giving feedback to an individual...

Ask for others' stories – be open!

Lisa: I'd like to understand things from your perspective. Is there anything going on that's causing these delays? How are you feeling about your workload?

When giving feedback to an individual...

Talk tentatively – “I might be wrong”

Lisa: thank you for telling me you didn't get the data from our teammate on time, would it help if we cover upcoming deliverables in our next check ins?

When giving feedback to an individual...

Encourage testing – invite discussion

Lisa: if my perspective or ideas won't align, I want to hear it. What else could help?

To give 360 feedback from a group...

1. Select peers
2. Prompt reviewers
3. Synthesize feedback
4. Discuss with subject
5. Make a plan

Do this more frequently than annually!

To give 360 feedback from a group...

1. Select peers

TIPS

- Ask subject for a list of 5 nominees
- Select 5 nominees yourself
- Choose 3–5 who work closely with subject

2. Prompt reviewers

TIPS

- Choose a good prompt template
- Use a tool to gather!

Example Open-Ended 360 Feedback Template

Trust: What examples can you give that have helped or hurt your trust in this colleague to help you with your own work?

In-Focus: What appears to have this colleague's attention over other efforts? Give some examples.

Out-of-Focus: What isn't getting as much attention as it should?

Values: Share examples of a company value this person exemplifies.

Questions: What questions do you have about the work this colleague performs?

Example Progression 360 Feedback Template

Remarkable: What does this colleague do that you find remarkable? What do you brag about them to other people?

Obstacles: What do you see getting in this colleague's way?

Challenges: Assume you're working with this colleague for the next 10 years. What behavior isn't a big deal now, but will get challenging over that time?

Opportunities: What areas would you like to see this colleague develop in? How could they be more helpful to you or the organization?

Lacking Chances to Collab  2 Cards

We haven't collaborated on an initiative for awhile—what should we be working on together...either as a single project or more regularly?

In Focus

Finance In Focus  6 Cards

Thank you for always keeping our bills paid!

Improving Culture  3 Cards

I appreciate you prioritizing a goal around our well-being at work le culture. It's a good example of how I sense she cares for others' well-being in general.

Out of Focus

I haven't seen you respond to many efforts outside of the Ops/Exco teams. Are you interested in the other parts of our business? How would you like to be answering?

Values

#transparency  2 Cards

I feel like you communicate clearly and often, way to live up to our value of transparency!

Moving quickly with some events to try to bolster our culture matches the value of experimentation

Questions

What tends to eat up your time? What do you wish you had more time for? What work do you wish you could give away?

Do you feel like you get enough insight from other teams, projects, or roles? What could you use more or less of?

Is there anything that you wish you had more insights in, or would want to contribute more to?

Do you feel we have meaningful ways to work together on the team? Does anything come to mind that has been missing for you?

TIPS

- Ask first, “how would you like to respond to this feedback?”
- Suggest changes within the person’s power

Next, let's discuss feedback in...

PEOPLE

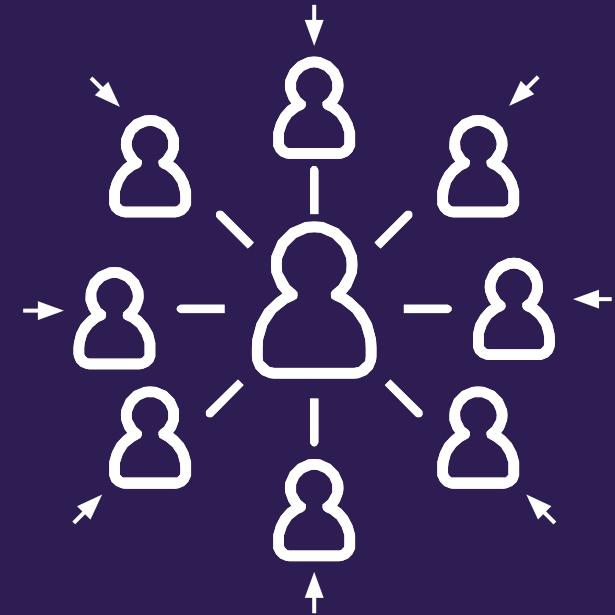

ORGANIZATIONS

Feedback to an org can center on many things...

- A Product/Service
- A Dept./Team
- The Brand/Entire Org.

...and often there is quite a lot of it!

What's a reasonable goal when collecting feedback as an organization?

GOAL (FOR MOST)

Minimizing bad stories while maximizing good stories

there is no perfect!

GOAL (FOR SOME)

Minimizing failure rates while maximizing productivity

...only if you produce widgets

Tips for processing organization-wide feedback...

- Probe: collect data, could be survey or formal research. Gather quant. and qual. data
- Learn: extract insights as a team, from many perspectives – heck, GPT can be a teammate
- Respond: prioritize, knowing you can't fix it all – use a strategy

Complete this loop as often as you can!
